We find the following in the Louisville Courier of last Saturday:

To show the consistency of the editor of the Journal in taking to task others for advocating emancipation, we will quote briefly from its own columns, and ask the reader to consider carefully its words. On the 23d of Oct., 1848, the editor said:

ALL MEN HAVE A RIGHT TO LIBER-TY, NO MATTER WHAT COLOR.

We have ever looked forward to the day when Kentucky should contain within her bounds no bondmen, and we hope to live to see the light of such a day.

Many of the best minds of the State are engaged with the subject of emancipation, and they express freely their opinions, and act freely them.

We must make up our m nds to meet that question, for no human power can stop it.

Any person that talks in this manner and still attempts to create the impression that he is a pro-slaveryite, is, to say the least, a fit object for suspicion. Close watching wont hurt him.

We have had the curiosity to look over our paper of the 23d of October, 1848, and we can say to our readers that it does not contain either of the sent ments purporting to be taken from it, or anything bearing the shadow of a resemblance to either of them. The sentiment which the Courier professes to quote from us in all the prominence of large type, "ALL MEN HAVE A RIGHT TO LIBERTY, NO MATTER WHAT COLOR," is as downright a fabrication as ever was perpetrated. We never uttered, or thought or dreamed of uttering, anything of the sort in our lives. We agree with wouldn't hurt us, but we are apprehensive that it might hurt him very seriously. Some editors, conscious that they can't stand watching, seem anxious to avoid it by making themselves not worth watching.

WOOL AND WOOLENS .- The fact now existing that the wool manufacturing interest in this competition, even with a tariff duty of 30 per cent. on cloths and cassimeres and 25 per cent. on worsted fabrics, is apparent by the closing of many of the wool factories of the country, and few or no new ones being started. In constructing the tariff on wool and on fabrics of that material, there were two powerful antagonistic interests to consult and to reconcile. The sheep grazier argued that he could not afford to import and improve the breed of sheep and quality of the wool without protection from foreign competition of the cheaper raw wools of other countries, and therefore Congress imposed a duty of 30 per cent. on raw wools. The wool grower was then provided for. The manufacturer also demanded protection, and Congress gave him also 30 per cent.; thus he was taken care of. What are the consequences? These duties, although very high, nullify each other. The duty on raw wools raises the price so high to the American manufacturer, both for foreign and domestic wools, that he cannot, even with the protection of 30 per cent., compete with his foreign rivals. This consequently so reduces the demand for home-grown wool for domestic manufacture that the use of it is rendered extremely limited, and as it cannot be offered low enough for export abroad, or otherwise no duty would be wanted upon it, sheep raising, except for the shambles, is not encouraged; and the culture of sheep for wool and the manufacture of the article are both dying out. The matter demands from Congress, apart from politics, earland earnest attention.

There was a row one night last week between the students of the college and the citizens of Princeton, N. J. A constable was dangerously stabbed.

Our correspondent "M. R. M." has RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MAITERS. written a greater quantity of exquisitely sweet and beautiful elegiac poetry than any other poet in the nation:

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] WHEN LAST WE MET.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. ANNE E. JONES. Obt. 23d of August, A. D., aged 35 years. When last we met! I would recall the time-

The beantiful midsummer morning-tide;
The village bells, repeating their sweet chime, The mirthful children gathered near thy side Thy fair cheek blossomed, with a dewy glow, Thy golden ringlets wood the early breeze, And rippled o'er thy floating robes of snow; Thy memory to me is linked with these.

Fond words of welcome at thy cottage door,
The sunny sky, the rose's scented breath,
They keep a charm thy presence to restore,
Linked with life, light, and summer—not with death.

We meet not now-they tell me thou art dead, In thy bright life's midsummer, morning-tide; The golden ringlets from thy temples shred. The fair young children parted from thy side; And thon shalt meet no more the day's fresh prime, And all the glorious tints of earth and sky; Shall list no more the village bells' soft chime Shall list no more the village bells sort clime.

In dying sweetness faintly wafted by.
Dead—In the grave!—and yet with things like these,
The dew of morn, the rose's scented breath,
I link thy memory—with the early breeze,
With life, with light and summer—not with death.

And we shall meet again, untouched by time, And listin lleaven's serenest morning-t de, To sounds more dulcet than the bells' sweet chime-Thy fair young children gathered near thy side; And I shall see thy pure cheek's blossomed glow, Thy golden ringlets floating on the breeze,

Tome thy memory is linked with these, And I recall thee, with the dewy morn, The snnny sky, the rose's scented breath; With blessedness of hope, immortal born, With life, with light and summer-not with death

And rippling o'er thy stainless robes of snow:

When, more than all, Prentice turns champion of the faith, and writes lectures on piety, the prospects of the Church are at a low ebb. Democrat.

If the prospects of the Church could stand your sermons, first in the pulpit of one denomination and then in that of another, we guess they are in no danger of suffering from our newspaper articles. The Church can subsist upon wholesome food if it could live with a snake in its belly.

MAN KILLED .- Mr. Woolfolk, of the John Tompkins, has given us an account of the killing of a man named Simons in Humphries co., Tenn., on the 6th inst., by a man named Hutton, who is a storekeeper there and is well known here. Simons, it appears, owed Hutton twenty cents, who demanded it, threatening at the same time to shoot S, unless he complied with his request. Simons jumped on a horse and Hutton shot him. Hutton has left for parts unknown.

MAMMOTH APPLE .- Mr. David Henry, of Brandenburg, has sent us an apple which weighs 241 ounces and measures 143 inches in circumference. It is a very tempting apple. In the absence of a better name, Mr. H. calls it the Young American apple. We do not believe that any "old fogy" apple can beat it; let's seesend on your specimens.

INDIAN OUTRAGES IN NEBRASKA.-We copy the following from the Nebraska News of the

On day before yesterday, our people were aroused by the arrival of Co. Manners, who reported that his party of Government surveyors were attacked by a band of Pawnee Loups who broke up his camp and endeavored to steal his inules. In the foray, six of the Colonel's party were separated from their companions, which six have not yet been heard from. The cook, attached to the party, when last seen, was going full on a mule followed by two other nules, and was hotly pursued by several of the Indians. But the Colonel and five of his men escaped and arrived safely at Nebraska City.

The cotton crop in this vicinity has been seriously injured by the long spell of wet weather.

The lower bolls upon the stalk have been almost entirely destroyed. Nothing but a remarkably favorable fall can redeem the crop from the injury it has already sustained.

Little Rock Dem., Sept. 4.

The river was at a stand yesterday with 6 feet water in the canal, 3 feet 2 inches over the rocks, and 4 feet in the pass on the falls. It will doubtless be on the rise to-day. The weather is still showery. The Mississippi at St. Louis, was on a stand on Friday, with 7 feet water in the channel to Cairo. The Missouri, Illinois, and upper Mississippi, were all low and fall-

The Cumberland river was falling on Friday evening with 31 feet water on the shoals.

The John Tompkins, from the Tennessee, reports that stream slightly on the rise.

The Little Rock Democrat, of the 4th inst.,

The river has risen some two or three feet but was on Monday evening falling. We expect however quite a rise, as the effect of the rains of the last few days.

The steamer Ben. Coursin, which arrived on Saturday, towed up the hull of Capt. Yocum's new sternwheeler, from Dycusburg, on the Cumberland river. Her machinery is also being built by Roach & Long, and her cabins by Mr. McLaren.

The new steamer Col. H, B. Chambers arrived from Cincinnati yesterday morning. She is a beautiful boat. She went over the falls without touching.

Steamer Grapeshot .- This new craft made a trial trip on Saturday and performed admirably. Capt. McGuire built her for the trade in the interior of Texas, and she appears to be well calculated for it, having great capacity for carrying cotton for a boat of her class, and being of light draught and very strongly constructed. A liquor riot occurred at Davenport port she leaves in a few days. The New York cattle market continues to give way. Wednesday's market is reported as follows by the Tribune:

There was another dccline in the price of beef cattle yesterday, if in fact such cattle as most of those in market are worthy of that appellation. The price of such as were really good beef did not exceed 10 cents per pound for the meat, while good fair stock sold much less, running down in the small trash and lower grades to less than 7 cents, averaging upon the 1,900 offered less than 9 cents per pound net. This is a variation of about 6 cents a pound from the highest market day of last spring; and makes a difference in the cost of beef for one hotel in this city of $1,000 a week, and a very large difference in the expenses of all meat-eating families, though not in proportion to the cost of cattle now and last May, for the reason that butchers are too apt to be oblivious of the fact that their customers are aware of the fall in prices. The prospect is very fair now that the price of tip-top beef cattle will not exceed 10 cents a pound net this fall upon any fair cash sales in this market, and fair quality of cattle will be sold at 8 cents. Parties can make their minds up to that. The receipts of beeves in the last week were

THE CROPS.—Extract of a letter from a genleman at Henderson, dated Sept. 10:

The crops are very large, and rather extraor-dinary in wheat, as there are several thousand bushels here for export, which is an unusual thing. Tobacco is quite flourishing, though somewhat injured by the late heavy rains. Hogs rate high and cannot be engaged under $5.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: EVANSVILLE, Sept. 13.

We beg leave to correct an item of news under "River and Steamboat Matters" in your paper of the 12th, that our "wharfboat which aground opposite this place had been floated off by the recent rise." She is still aground, be-sides being well secured to the shore, where she will remain until she is repaired.

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 17, 1855.

If the cotton of India should supplant that of the United States in the markets of Europe, the demand for fresh field hands in Mississippi and Alabama will necessarily decline. Providence may, in this manner, be working out a solution of the problem which has baffled human sagacity, and what philanthropy has failed to accomplish may be brought about by the laws of production and trade. When slavery ccases to be profitable it will of course be abolished; be-When slavery ccases to nevolent minds, therefore, will not deplore prospective decline in the importance of American cotton crop.—Buffalo Com. importance of the

We have never doubted that there were people in the United States whose abolitionism was sufficiently rampant to make them desire the dissolution of the Union, and the destruction of our foreign commerce, or any other commerce, if thereby they could succeed in extirpating slavery. But we had not ranked the editor of the Commercial in that category. We had not learned that his benevolence was so extensive, that he would not deplore the decline of the most important branch of American agriculture if he could in that way bring about the emancipation of three millions of Africans, notoriously incapable of taking care of themselves. We are willing to admit, that, when the slaves do not earn enough to support themselves and their masters, they will be emancipated; but if that does not happen until India cotton supplants the American article, it will be postponed to a period near the day of judgment. The interference of East India-grown cotton in the European markets with American is a thing that we have heard threatened from the days of our boyhood to the present time, and yet the growth and consumption of cotton in this country has increased and is still increasing every year. In the last number of Hunt's Merchants' in England appear to have established the fact that our planters have nothing to fear from the rivalry of the planters in India." The investigations alluded to were set on foot by a committee of the House of Commons, before which the leading men of Manchester were minutely examined. The salient points in the comparison of India with American cotton are these: India is five months' sail from Liverpool; America is one month's. The consumption of cotton in India is so very great that the country cannot more than supply the home demand. India cotton is, for the purposes of the English manufacturer, 20 per cent. inferior in quality to the American. The difference in waste in the best qualities of India and American cotton is 121 per cent. in favor of the American article. The same machinery will produce a larger and better quality of yarn from American than from the best Surat cotton, which is owing to the staple of the American being stronger than the India cotton. Much of the India cotton is so badly cleaned that the loss is excessive.

Magazine it is said that "recent investigations

Painful as these facts may be to the feelings of Abolitionists, it affords us pleasure to chronicle them; and, as the time appears to be remote when the cultivation of cotton in this country by slave labor will cease, we hope they will await, with Christian fortitude and pious resignation, the advent of that "good time coming" when slave labor shall be unprofitable, and when slavery, in consequence thereof, shall be abolished.

A Bogus Insurance Company .- We learn by the Albany (N. Y.) Argus that William Barnes, appointed by the Comptroller to make investigation, reports that the assets of the National Exchange Insurance Company are insufficient to justify its continuance in business in ficient to justify its continuance in business in the city of New York, and that, in his opinion, ally disappear and leave the pure metal, which the public interests require the immediate dis- cannot be got out with equal facility and cheapsolution of said corporation.

He states, that, in order to get up the necessary capital to swear by and get the certificate of the Commissioners allowing them to commence business, they borrowed for a day or two a broker's check of $150,000. The Comptroller has turned the case over to the Attorney-General.

THE SPEAKERSHIP OF THE HOUSE .- The Washington Star reviews the chances of the several candidates of the opposition for Speaker of the next House of Representatives, and disposes of them by saying that Mr. Collom's the Nebraska bill, which would alienate the Know Nothings of the South, and Mr. Hunt's (of La.) deafness and instability, have left the coast clear for Mr. Humphrey Marshall.

The crops of Cuba of this year will be the largest ever made-it is so stated by persons who are esteemed well posted.

DECLINE OF THE ORDER OF JESUITS .- The Rome correspondence of the Newark Advertiser

I notice by the way, by a recent table of ecclesiastical statistics, that the Order of Jesuits numbers now only 5,510 members, though in its palmy days it boasted of over 20,000. existing number 1.515 are assigned to Italy, 1,697 to France, 1,294 to England and America. 463 to Belgium, 369 to Spain, &c.

Young America .- The Charlottesville (Va Jeffersonian says:

While President Pierce was standing near the hotel at which he had taken rooms, a little chap of a few summers, finding his hat-band un buckled, went up to the President and accosted him, saying. "fix my hat-band, sir." "What is your name?" said the President. "Debree." "Do you know me?" "Yes, you are the Presisaid Young America; "fix my hat-band." The President fixed his hat-band, and then Young America went to his play, contented and happy that he too was the President's "peer."

The Oldest Farmer in the World .- Mr. Raggers Bagley has purchased one hundred and sixty acres of land in Minnesota Territory, which he intends settling upon and improving. Mr. Bag. intends settling upon and improving. Mr. Bag-ley is 107 years old, and is still an active and dustrious pioneer, in the enjoyment of excel-th health. CAT FIGHT .- The Montgomery (Ala) Journal of the 8th inst. says:

fill the vacancy.

We learn that on an evening of last week some alarm was excited at the plantation of Mrs. McCullough, in the lower part of this county, by the onslaught of a ferocious wild cat on some of the people. It seems that the cat sprung suddenly on the back of a woman, tearing her neck and shoulders with its teeth. After much effort, it was beaten off by the negroes, and secreted itself. It was supposed by them, in the gloom, to be a mad dog. The overseer, who had been ill, came out and sent the negroes, with the dogs, to take its track, sup-poing it had gone to the woods. On returning to his house, he was suddenly attacked by the animal in the same way, and, after a long gle, was thrown down. He continued to fight him until the negroes and the dogs came up and despatched the beast, which was found to be a wild cat, of the short tail species, and of large size. The animal was a slut, it having un-doubtedly whelped but a short time previous, and was much famished in appearance, which may account for her unusual ferocity. The in about seventy places.

VAST MINERAL RICHES OF THE GADSDEN PURCHASE.—Some months since (says the Alta California) we noticed the formation and departure of a company of adventurers in this city for the exploration of the Gadsden purchase. They arrived at their point of destination and discovered, among other valuable mines, the copper one now known as La Mina del Azo, situated about 30 miles south of the Gila river, and 25 north of the new boundary line between the United States and Mexico. Taking formal possession of this, they sent a party back to city, and furnished such extraordinary statements regarding the wealth of the mine, several capitalists were induced to invest in the matter, and a stock company was formed under the laws of California, with a capital of $500,-000 in shares of $100 each. A sufficient amount of the stock was disposed of to raise a working capital, and, thus armed, the party returned with a scientific miner and a comp tent number of workmen. Our informant, who is a member of this company, and one of the original discoverers of this mine, states that operations have doubtless commenced by this time. there in June, and arrived in this city by the Sea Bird last weck, from San Diego.

This mine, according to the representations of M. R Sackett, is one of the richest in the world, and is only one of numerous mines, which, to judge from the formation of the country, are likely to prove equally productive. The vein crops out of the ground for a distance of 100 yards. It is but a few inches wide at the surface of the ground, but increases in width at the rate of an inch to the foot as the vein is followed down. Specimens which we have seen of the ore are heavy with the metal, and pieces of pure copper glitter forth at all points from the mass. At the last stage of the excavations, specimens of pure copper had displayed them-selves, and the only difficulty anticipated by the ness with the ore. A considerable encampment is formed at the mine, and all the water and provisions are obtained at Fort Yuma, to which point it is also designed to transport the ore and metal for shipment in small river steamers to the Gulf of Cal ifornia, where it wil! be taken on board and shipped to the Eastern States or England for smelting. The ore is said to be inexhaustible, and increasing in richness as it is followed. Not far from this locality is the celebrated Mina de Plancha de Plata, where, as Mr. Sackett states, piece of virgin silver was recently picked up weighing fourteen pounds, and formerly a piece weighing one hundred arrobas, found by Mexican miners. This and other old mines are now abandoned and filled with water, the workmen defeat, Mr. Haven's position as a repealer of having been driven away by the hostile Indians.

By the next steamer from San Diego more additional news may be expected from that section of the country in relation to its mineral Should the reports prove correct, California will not be long in throwing some of her adventurous nopulation into our newly-acquired teritory, to explore its hidden treasures.

Failure of Mails.—If a mail at any time fail to arrive at the end of a route or at any intermediate post-office where the time of arrival is fixed within the time specified in the contract or schedule, it is expected that every contractor will immediately, by himself or agent, send his excuse to the inspection office, setting forth particularly the cause of the failure. If, after waiting a reasonable time, no specific and sa isfactory excuse is received, it is the duty of the hief clerk to report the case to the Postmaster General for fine. General excuses for such failures are not admitted by the Department. bad roads are alleged, a specific report must be made of what portion of the road was so bad as to obstruct the mails, and what was its peculiar condition. If high waters are stated to be the cause of such failure, it must be shown what water-courses were impassable; and so of all other excuses .- Washington Union.

Emphasis is known to be of great consequence to a public speaker. Gesture is some-times equally impressive. An anecdote is related of a clergyman who was tormented with a termagant wife. In the course of time she paid "the debt of nature," and her husband personally officiated at her funeral. His speech was devoted in part to "the thousand ills that flesh is heir to," and was concluded by a Scripture quotation. Extending his right hand toward the grave, he said: "There the wicked cease from troubling," and then placing the same hand on his heart, he added, "and the weary are at rest."

[From the New York Journal of Commerce. A LETTER FROM COL. KINNEY.

SAN JUAN DEL NORTE, Aug. 18, 1855. MY DEAR MAURY: I have just completed the purchase of thirty millions of acres of the most magnificent country in the world-a country which, I venture to predict, will, before many months, teem with the enterprising and industrious masses of the United States and Europe. Messrs. Shepherds & Haly have disposed of their entire right, title, and interest in the celebrated "Mosquito Grant" to me for $500,000, and I shall proceed at once to invite that emigration which is needed for the development of its unequalled resources. There are three hundred miles of seaboard belonging to it, and, further back, an elevated table-land, healthy in climate, and capable of producing every staple of the tropic or temperate zones. Sugar, coffee, tobacco, coehineal, and cocoa are produced in abundance, in addition to the substantial supplies of cattle and grain required by the exigencies of a large population.

Much of the land in the interior along the banks of the San Juan river, the navigable highway of inter-oceanic commerce, whence pro-duce can be shipped, without change of transportation, to any port on the globe. I need not say anything of the mining resources. The old Californians who have lately been up there, say they are the best in the world, and large accession is looked for from their State. of Boca del Toro, toward the southern boundary, which has been opened of late, is so situated, on account of the deep water, that steamships of the largest class can come alongside and load up without further trouble. I ho therefore that you and your friends may early upon the ground to share in the prospective advantages of this vast addition to the field of American enterprise. Excuse the haste with which this is written, and believe me, truly your H. L. KINNEY.

Bless the man, how every land where he imagines he has secured "acres" suddenly becomes a wonder of beauty, health, and fertility. And how unceremoniously he bids adieu to one contract to take up another. But does he really suppose that anybody is to be beguiled into emigration to the Mosquito coast by the stereotyped epresentations which serve to gild every alleged acquisition that he makes? If so, we must add rare greenness to his other qualities. What le comes of his lands in the interior of Nicaraugua," of which at last accounts he was about to take pos-

GRANADA, 24th August, 1855.

H. L. Kinney, Esq.—Sir: Your having been publicly announced as a chief of fillibusters, has caused us to adopt the convenient measures of precantion. However, as in your favor of the 31st of last month, which I received yesterday, you affirm that you entertain no hostile intentions toward Nicaragna, but, on the contrary, wish to come to a settlement which may prove of mu-tual benefit, I am agreeable, at your request, to hear you through a person representing your expedition, with which object you may commission any one you may think proper.

If, as you state, you possess any rights which ought to be acknowledged in this country, the governments holds it as a fundamental principle to welcome every peaceful man, and to do jus-tice to him who has it.

I am, sir, your obedient servant, J. MA. ESTRADA.

DIFFICULTIES IN THE SURVEY OF WASII-INGTON TERRITORY .- By a letter from the surveyor general of Washington Territory, dated the 24th of July last, we learn that the extension of the fifth standard parallel line could only be made west 24 miles, in consequence of impassable obstructions. It was contemplated to extend this parallel west to the Pacific ocean. The deputy surveyor who has charge of the work was 29 days in completing the 24 miles returned to the surveyor general's office. The surveyor general has released the deputy sur veyor from his contract, and says the survey is not needed at the present time.

The difficulties are stated to be: 1st. The region passed over presented one unbroken, dense , growing amid the undecayed trunks of er prostrated one. One large growth of another prostrated one. firs, cedars, and pines had been prostrated years since by the wind; another similar one had grown up in its place, and the interstices were filled with a very dense undergrowth. 2d. Supplies could only be obtained from the eastern part of his work on horses, as there is no settle nent six miles west of his starting point. 3d. Upon reaching the 24th mile, the deputy survey-or encountered the southern extremity of the Olympian range of mountains, and the country was very rough, rocky, filled with canons, &c., and affording no subsistence to his packhorses, which became exhausted from inauition.

Foreign Items.—The Stuttgardt correspondent of the Moniteur says: "In view of Russian reports which almost represent the Sweaborg affair as a victory, it is not without interest to find the truth in a Russian journal. The Finlands Allmanna Fidning, in an article reproduced by the Wurteinberg journal, the Beobachter, says: 'All that could be destroyed at Sweaporg has been annihilated; in fact, it was advantageous to attack, not the granite fortifications, but the city, and that is burned, with its immense magazines; the watch-dog remains, but he has no longer a house to guard. What was most remarkable was the inefficiency of the fire of th Russians. A ship-of-the-line, which might have disabled the gun-boats of the Allies, was content to disappear behind the forts."

Braithwaite's Retrospect for July.

To medical men the great advantage offered by the Retrospect is its embodying in a confined space all the eream of Medical periodicals, sparing them the labor of wading through many velumes filled with much trivial and uninteresting matter, which must be peruad in order to reach what is really valuable, and supplying them with a key by the ald of which they may find precisely what they require in any of the scattered publications of the day. To families and private individuals it is scarcely less valuable than to the professional reader, since, although purely and in the highest degree scientific, its contents are yet presented in a style so simple and manafected that they are comprehensible to any ordinary intellect. Chickering's Parlor Grand Pianos,

BRAINARD BROTHERS, Jacob's Block, 74 Fourth street, near Main.

The Parlor Grand is the very perfection of all Grand Planos, and is particularly adapted to the wants of professors, amaters, and to the wints of the wint

The unique and beautiful style of this Instrument and Its perfect fitness for the parler are commendations that will not apply to the ordinary Grand Plano. For, while it combines the doue, power, action, and appearance of n Full Grand, it has the delicate touch of chickering; Square Planos, acknowledged by every one superior to any other, and, though of seven octave compass, is still smaller in size than the semi-Grand Plano of 6% octaves, as it occupies but little more space than a 7 octave Square Plano.

The peculiar and compact construction of the Parlor Grand, an invention of the late lamented Jouas Chickering, is a snrequarantee of its darability. And the complete succeas of this new and truly beautiful instrument fully sustains the reputation of its inventor and mannfacturers.

We have alreally sold several of these instruments in this city, and, to meet the increased demand for them, have arranged for a constant supply.
